

'SALEM BLESSED WITH MANY SCHEMES'

Senthil Balaji decision not very wise, feel experts

Chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami recalls how the city had been lucky for late CM Jayalalithaa while laying foundation stone for several Smart City projects; talks about its growth over the years and terms it a role model for others

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Salem

CHIEF Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami remarked on how Salem was a lucky city for former chief minister J Jayalalithaa, when laying foundation stone for Smart City projects worth ₹198.85 crore on Thursday.

Speaking at the event, he talked about how Jayalalithaa had sanctioned many schemes for the city, including over-bridges at AVR Roundana, Thiruvagoundanur and Steel Plant, and initiated dedicated water supply schemes. Now works for a two-tier bridge from Five Roads to Four Roads, at the cost of ₹320, would begin soon, he said. Given that Salem was a developing city, the government was taking several steps to reduce traffic congestion by constructing bridges. While work on the Shevapat bridge was halted due to legal problems, the issues would be addressed and work would restart soon, he assured. Besides these bridges, an overbridge will be constructed on the Kandampatti-Sivathapuram Road. The tender for the overbridge project at Ariyanoor has been floated and the foundation for that project would be laid in the next 20 days, he added.

With the bus port coming up in Salem district soon, the city has now become a role model for other cities, he remarked. Contrasting the Salem before 2011 and the city it is now, he pointed out that the government was working for the benefit of the people and implementing many welfare schemes, he noted.

On Thursday, the chief minister participated in a pooja and laid foundation stone for the Smart City works — a two-tier bus stand to be constructed in the place of Old Bus Stand at the cost of ₹92.13 crore, strengthening the banks of Thirumanimutharu river at ₹18.08 crore, multi-level car parking at VOC market at the cost of ₹13.50 crore and at Victoria shopping complex for ₹7.80 crore, renovating Salem New Bus Stand at the cost of ₹4.75 crore and creating underground drainage facility at smart roads for ₹3.78 crore.

Municipal Administration minister S P Velumani, also speaking at the meeting, said that they planned to pre-gal UGD connection and link to main pipeline even as the main pipeline was laid out; this would avoid having to dig up roads multiple times. He also remarked that this was the first time such an initiative was being taken in the country. He also talked about how thousands of people were saved during the Gaja cyclone because of the steps taken by the chief minister.

Meanwhile, the CM also stopped at his hometown Edappadi.

EPS COMMISSIONS 2 NEW TALUKS, INAUGURATES SPORTS STADIUMS

Chennai: Chief minister Edappadi K Palaniswami has commissioned two new taluks — one in Krishnagiri district and the other in Coimbatore district — besides declaring open new buildings for various taluk offices constructed at a cost of ₹10.47 crore, through the video-conferencing facility at the secretariat on Wednesday. The new taluks are: Anjetti taluk created by streamlining Thenkanikottai taluk, and Anaimalai taluk created by streamlining the Pollachi taluk. Meanwhile, EPS also inaugurated the 47th branch of THAICO bank at Madurai. He also opened the auction centre at Sagoserve in Salem, established at ₹ 25 lakh. He also inaugurated multi-purpose indoor stadiums at Perambalur (₹2.79cr) and Virudhunagar (₹1.83cr). Besides, the CM commissioned a digital library at TN Physical Education and Sports University at Melakottaiyur in Kancheepuram dist.

TIRUPUR HOSPITALS GET NEW BUILDINGS

Chennai: The chief minister opened new buildings for Tirupur hospitals through video-conferencing. He also handed over appointment orders to seven village health nurses. He opened a 54 bed-facility new building in Oothukuli GH and a 57 bed-facility new building in the Madathukulam GH. He handed over appointment order to seven village health nurses recruited through the Medical Recruitment Board

All but Dhinakaran welcome to party, says chief minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Salem

ALL rebels, except T T V Dhinakaran, were welcome to return to the AIADMK, announced Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami on Thursday.

He made the statement when journalists drew his attention to a few Amma Makkal Munnetra Kazhagam members joining DMK. While the chief minister said that it was their choice, he remarked that inviting rebels to AIADMK — a party protected by MGR and Jayalalithaa — was his duty. Heeding the call, AMMK Ram-anathapuram district organisation secretary joined AIADMK in his presence on Wednesday, he said and clarified that anyone except Dhinakaran can return to the party.

Speaking to media persons, Palaniswami said that the government had approached the Supreme Court regarding Mekedatu dam already, as the Karnataka government has not acted as per the court verdict. The SC has sought a report from Central Water Board Commission and from Karnataka government in four weeks. Tamil Nadu government has filed cases against Karnataka Water Resources minister and its officials for violating the Supreme Court verdict as well, he added.

Asked about why the SC refused to give a stay order for appointment of inspector general Pon Manickavel as special officer for Idol Wing, the chief minister said that he was yet to see the verdict and discuss it with lawyers; then, he would comment on the issue.

DHINAKARAN said the AMMK had 1.20 crore members with 20 affiliated wings and 70 party districts. This was possible despite stiff opposition from the Central and State governments. Even before the party was launched, it (through Dhinakaran) had won the by-election to RK Nagar by defeating the DMK and ruling AIADMK, he said. Without naming Balaji, Dhinakaran criticised him as 'pseudo' and said real loyal cadre remained with him (Dhinakaran). Asked about the Balaji episode, P Vetrivel, one of the disqualified MLAs, told Express, "We thank Senthil Balaji for joining the DMK. By doing so, he has effectively thwarted the charge being made that AMMK is colluding with DMK. Second, this move is political suicide for Balaji."

"For a political party, such betrayals are very common. Late AIADMK leaders MG Ramachandran and J Jayalalithaa had faced similar betrayals and those who have betrayed them had never come up in politics. Similar would be the case of Balaji in DMK in future. This incident also proves that the DMK is afraid of AMMK. In the coming days, you will see, many leaders of DMK joining the AMMK," he said.

Political analyst Tharasu Shyam is of the view that Balaji joining DMK would not help either him or DMK. "Had Balaji returned to AIADMK, it would have been a natural shift for him. But, moving to DMK is not a wise move. There are many senior functionaries in Karur, so, Senthil Balaji may not get any significant post."
